

Rogerio Branco

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT, EATON

Rogerio Branco is executive vice president, Supply Chain Management for Eaton, a power management company.

In this role, he sets the vision and leads the execution of Eaton's global supply chain strategy – including the development and deployment of integrated materials management, procurement, logistics, supplier development, and supplier quality activities.

Rogerio joined Eaton in 1993 and advanced in roles across various functions, including accounting, corporate business development, and manufacturing. Early in his career, Rogerio served as plant manager in the Vehicle Group's Truck operations in Pune, India, and as a product line manager in Kings Mountain, North Carolina, before moving into the role of director, supply chain management, for the Vehicle Group.

Most recently, Rogerio was director of operations for the Vehicle Group in South America, where he was responsible for overseeing all aspects of operations and supply chain management.

Rogerio earned a degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Sao Paulo and a Master of Business Administration in finance management from the University of Campinas in Brazil.

*At Eaton, we make what matters work and know what matters next.

Powering Business Worldwide

Eaton's mission is to improve the quality of life and the environment through the use of power management technologies and services. We provide sustainable solutions that help our customers effectively manage electrical, hydraulic and mechanical power – more safely, more efficiently and more reliably. Eaton's 2020 revenues were $17.9 billion, and we sell products to customers in more than 175 countries.