Subject: C-UL Certification Mark

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is intended to clarify some of the industry confusion concerning the C-UL certification mark. It is helpful to first understand the basic UL certification mark. The UL mark on a product means that UL has tested/evaluated representative samples and determined that they meet the requirements of the applicable UL standard. The C-UL mark on a product means that UL has tested/evaluated representative samples and determined that they meet the requirements of the applicable CSA (Canadian) standard. It should be understood that CSA can also test/evaluate samples to the requirements of the applicable CSA (Canadian) standard. When the certification is performed by CSA, the product bears the CSA mark. Both the C-UL mark and the CSA mark, confirms that the product meets the same CSA standard requirements.

I hope this helps to clarify these certifications.
