Subject: Product Change Notice – Reactivation of Select Part Numbers

Dear Valued Customer:

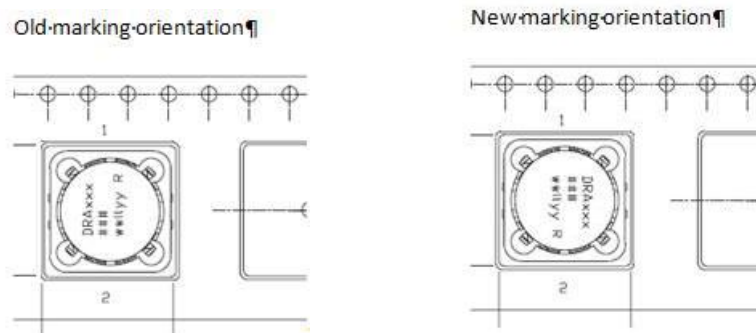

Effective October 1, 2012, the Electronics Division of Eaton’s Electrical Product Group issued a Product Change Notice regarding the availability of select DRA Series inductors pending reengineering to improve key performance criteria. This reengineering is now complete and the affected part numbers listed below are now reactivated and released for ordering. As part of the reengineering, the part marking orientation has also changed and is noted below. All DRA Series inductors are now halogen free with more information and specifications available in data sheet # PM-4319.

This Product Change Notice (PCN) is to inform you:
